

BIDS ARE OPENED

For Construction of New Water System Here.

TALK OF INJUNCTION HEARD

TEDIOUS WORK OF TABULATING THE BIDS IN PROGRESS.

Until Finished It is Impossible to Make Approximate Estimate of Total—Four Bids Opened.

Bids for the construction of the new municipal waterworks plant were opened in the office of the board of public service by Assistant Clerk Ralph Davis, who read them in detail.

The office was crowded by those interested in the proceedings and a number of spectators. Several attorneys were also present when the bids were opened, representing various interests.
Only four bids were opened, each one containing 73 items.

As soon as the court house clock had finished striking 12, President J. P.
Lamb called the board to order and instructed Clerk Davis to open and read the bids.

The first was from Sullivan, Murphy & Myers of Columbus, accompanied by a bond of $60,000, signed by the American Surety Company. The second was that of W. G. Gawn & Co. of Cleveland, which was also accompanied by a proposal bond of $60,000, signed by the Fidelity Surety Company.

The third was that of Westwater & Casey of Columbus, the Aetna Security Company being surety.

The last bid opened was that of the Ohio Contracting Company, accompanied by a bond signed in blank by the Fidelity & Deposit Company of Maryland.

Representatives of other bidding firms entered a formal protest against this bid as being irregular, because no amount was stated in the bond.

On the advice of attorneys the bid was read and the matter of its regularity will be determined later.

After reading the bids the board adjourned for lunch and returning at 1:30 began the tedious job of tabulating the bids, so that the totals can be ascertained.

Until this work is done it is impossible to make even an approximate estimate of the total amounts.

The people are anxious to know the total figures and the Advocate regrets that it is unable to publish them in some general form today, for the reason that the bidders were not required by the specifications as is usually done in bidding on public works to make an estimate of the total cost of construction, after having given estimates on the detail work.

TALK OF INJUNCTION.

There were persistent rumors that the water works company, or some individual, would get out an injunction Saturday morning to restrain the opening of bids for the construction of the new municipal water works system at noon. These rumors proved to be unfounded however.

Attorney J. A. Flory of the law firm of Flory & Flory, who with Jones & Jones are counsel for the water works company, said:

"Why, we don't want any injunction against their opening bids for the construction of a new plant. It does not involve the expenditure of money and should we prevail in the suit now pending before the Supreme court, the proceeding would be nugatory.

"But when they, the Board of Public Service and City officials, let the contract and begin paying estimates from the $300,000 realized on the bond sale, which we claim was illegal, and never formed a valid contract between the city and the present bond holders, the case will be different.

"After the decision of a majority of the Circuit court, sustaining Judge Seward's judgment that the secret bond sale was a legal contract, between the city and the bona fide bond holders, we petitioned the Supreme court to allow us to file a supersedeas, which was granted, and the Supreme court issued an injunction restraining the bondholders, Dennison, Pryor &
Co., of Cleveland, and Seasongood & Meyer of Cincinnati from negotiating or in any way disposing of the bonds until the case was decided by them upon its merits.

"If a contract is let under these circumstances, and all or any part of the $300,000 is spent, the bondholders will be the losers should the Supreme court maintain our position, viz., that the sale of the bonds was illegal. If they are willing to take the chance it does not concern us.

"The only redress the bond holders would have in case the sale is declared illegal, would be to sue those who spent the money and their bondsmen."

SUGGESTION FROM KAISER.

Manchester, Aug. 2.—The Dispatch says today that it is rumored in official circles that the Kaiser has addressed a communication to President

STORM AT SEA

For 24 Hours Hamburg-American Liner Drifted at Mercy of Big Atlantic Hurricane.

New York, Aug. 12.—For 24 hours
the Hamburg-American liner Graf Waldersee drifted at the mercy of a hurricane which struck her during the transatlantic voyage. Passengers held a reception here to thank Captain A.
Krech for bringing them safely through the greatest storm experienced in the history of the Graf Wal-dersee and probably one of the worst ever faced by an Atlantic liner. The storm began the morning of Aug. 2. A few hours later waves were rolling over the ship, all passengers were locked beneath decks and bags of oil were hung over the ship's sides for 36 hours as a protection. During 24 hours the waves ran so high that the steering gear of the liner was inadequate to keep her in her course, and the ship practically drifted with the storm. Some lifeboats and deck su-perstructures were carried overboard by the waves. At the height of the storm a baby was born in the steerage and named after the ship.

STAINED GLASS

As an Aid in Curing Insanity to Be Tried at Newburg State Hospital Next Week.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 12.—A beautiful stained-glass window showing Christ at the door, will be placed in the chapel of the State Insane Hospital at Newburg next week. It is intended not solely as a fitting decoration for the place of worship, but mainly as a means to aid in the cure of patients there. It is believed that such a picture will have curative value.

When it is installed it will be fringed with electric lights and at certain times will be illuminated.

SUPREMACY

Of Autocracy in Russia Will
Not be Abandoned—
Official Note Issued.

(Bulletin.)

St. Petersburg, Aug. 12.—An official note was published today in reference to the proposed national assembly on which the hope of all Russia is centered.
In the note the significant words
"supreme autocratic power" are used for the express purpose of finally removing from the minds of all liberals the idea that the fundamental law of the supremacy of the autocracy is to be abandoned. Great pains are taken to make clear that the function of the assembly is to be simply consultative and that it will be inferior to the council of state.

BANKER BIGELOW

His First Defalcation Was a Mere Trifle as Compared With Later Stealing.

Milwaukee, Aug. 12.—The history of the former banker Frank H. Bigelow's downfall, showing the amounts of his stealings from the First National bank from May 25, 1904, until April 25, dis-closes that he started his crooked work by abstracting $15,000, and gradually increased the amounts until the total approximated over $1,700,000.
The truth, as revealed in an exhibit submitted to the bankruptcy court in proof of the bank's claim against Bigelow, is as strange as any fiction.

FIALA'S PARTY DISCOURAGED

RESCUING PARTY MADE DASH FOR NORTH AND SUCCEEDED.

Explorers Suffered Severely From Their Hardships in the North Cruise of the Terra Nova.

Tromsø, Norway, Aug. 12.—Anthony Fiala and his companions of the Ziegler Arctic expedition arrived here on the relief steamer Terra Nova, happy in their rescue from the Polar regions.

The Terra Nova sailed from Tromsø
June 14, shaping her course direct for the ice fields, which were encountered June 19. The condition of the ice being favorable, the ship proceeded eastward along the edge of the field until June 27, when it commenced to force its way through the floe and struck open water July 25.
Thick ice was again encountered the following day, but the morning of July 28 Palmi island was sighted, and July 29 the Terra Nova reached Cape Dil-

ANTHONY FIALA.

lon, where she found six members of the expedition safe and well. From this outpost sleds were dispatched to notify Mr. Fiala at the headquarters camp of the arrival of the rescue ship.

The Terra Nova reached Cape Flora July 30 and found more members of the expedition. These were weakened by the hardships they endured, and some of them were so ill that they could not have held out another winter. Returning to Cape Dillon Mr.
Champ, who commanded the relief expedition, organized a sled party and started for the headquarters camp, from which he brought back Mr. Fiala and his comrades. The Terra Nova sailed for home Aug. 1. It got out of the ice pack Aug. 6 and returned in excellent condition.

Members of the expedition tell a stirring story of their vain efforts to reach the pole. William J. Peters of the United States government survey, who was second in command of the Ziegler expedition, and others utilized the time in survey work. Many improvements in and additions to existing maps and charts will be the outcome. The relations between all the members of the expedition were the most cordial, and all took turns at duty. All were most hopeful of success until the fall of 1904, when the solid ice field stretching in every direction seemed to preclude the possibility of help reaching them and they became despondent. The leaders of the expedition had considerable difficulty keeping up the spirits of the men throughout the hard winter months, but hope returned in the spring when the ice conditions became more favorable.

Business and Pleasure.

Manila, Aug. 12.—The Reach Riders residence here, headed by Colonel Alexander Brodie, ex-governor of Arizona, now attached to the military secretary's department, and Governor George Curry of the island of Samar called on Miss Roosevelt and discussed the days they served under her father, Rear Admiral Train and Representative Fox, chairman of the house committee on naval affairs, paid a visit to the Olomapo and the University club held a reception. An executive session of the commission was held, the business being devoted to the cost of the insular government.

Representative Grover issued a call for data regarding the shipping question, which will be taken up next.
The night of Aug. 10 Filipino women

He did, and in the pocket of his

GEN. MINER REFUSES TO SAY A

Except to Remark That His Turn

Asked About Courtmartial.

Wooster, Aug. 12.—Captain Taggart was again on the stand when court opened today. He was asked to relate a few of the indecent stories he had testified Mrs. Taggart was in the habit of telling. As told, the stories were very naughtily. Mrs. Taggart's eyes blazed while this testimony was given. She faced Captain Taggart.

In answer to further questions, Captain Taggart said: "My wife's relations with other ladies at Fort Leavenworth were apparently friendly, but there were but two ladies with whom she was intimate." Captain Taggart was asked to describe the room upstairs where Mrs. Taggart in her ki-mona received an officer, according to Taggart's valet on the stand this week. The captain said: "It was a room used as a sitting room by the family before we had dressed, it was not used for the entertainment of others."

COURTMARTIAL TALK.

Washington, Aug. 12.—Lieutenant General L. C. Smith, chief of the staff of the United States army, was asked today whether a courtmartial would result from the Taggart case.

"Sufficient must be said to the effect of," he replied. "I haven't answered the question of courtmartial over-and over, but I am not an officer. I don't fight in the civil court. I don't, of course, if I were to be tried, but I am not an officer."

Another high army official expressed the general opinion that seems to prevail in army circles here.
"The entire case is a disgrace and a blot on the good name of the army,"
he said. "It shows a man who has been in command of a regiment and out of court. It is a disgrace and a blot on the good name of the army."

RUSSIA'S REPLY.

Document Handed to Japs
This Morning.

ANSWER WRITTEN BY WITTE

HITCH OVER JAP CREDENTIALS IS NOT YET SETTLED.

Mikado Has Right to Ratify or Reject Treaty That May be Made—Czar Watches Proceedings.

Portsmouth, N. H., Aug. 12.—The peace plenipotentiaries went into session at the navy yard at 9:35 this morning and after a session lasting one hour and twenty-five minutes adjourned. Russia delivered her reply to the Japanese demands, refusing to concede certain conditions. After adjournment, M. Sato, the Japanese spokesman, announced that the conferences would be continued. This means, apparently, that the demands objected to by the Russians will now be the subject of negotiation.

After a heavy storm last night the day broke humid and sultry. M. Witte and Baron Rosen were early astir.
They breakfasted in the private dining room at 8 o'clock with Messrs.
Nabakoff, Karastovitz and Plancon, the three secretaries who attend them
during the conference.

Assistant Secretary Peirce called upon M. Witte. It was 9:20 o'clock when, after a pleasant little chat with him, M. Witte led the way to an automobile followed by Baron Rosen.
M. Witte wore a loose fitting black frock coat with a white vest. The baron wore a gray frock suit.

As M. Witte sank heavily into his seat in the automobile he waved his hand in salutation to Mr. Peirce and made a formal remark in French. The baron seated himself by his side and
M. Nabakoff with a black portfolio in his hands, which contained the answer of the Czar's government to the Mikado peace terms, ascended in front by the chauffeur. The machine moved off.

Just at that moment the black automobile, containing the Japanese and
M. Sato dashed by the other side of the road. The countenances of the Japanese envoys indicated deep concern. Baron Komura, in black derby hat and frock coat and Mr. Takahira, in grey, looked neither to the right nor to left. The envoys reached the navy yard shortly before ten o'clock and went at once into session. The conference remained in session until 11 o'clock. After adjournment M.
Sato, on behalf of the Japanese, issued the following statement: "In the sitting of Saturday morning, August 12, their excellencies and plenipotentiaries of Russia have handed their reply in writing to the note presented to them Thursday by their excellencies, the plenipotentiaries of Japan.
It has been decided that the next conference will meet when their excellencies the plenipotentiaries of Japan will notify the plenipotentiaries of Russia that they have studied the document and are ready to reply, which will be today, at 3 o'clock, or tomorrow afternoon at the same hour.

Portsmouth, N. H., Aug. 12.— Russia's reply to the Japanese terms of peace was delivered by M. Witte to Baron Komura at the morning session today. The reply was written in two texts, one in French and the other in English. Upon the two crucial points, indefiniteness and the cession of the island of Sakhalin, the reply is an absolute non-possibility. Other points are accepted as basis for discussion, while still others are accepted conditionally.
The reply is rather long, because in enumerating the conditions upon which discussion is admitted and those upon which consideration is declined, arguments are given.

M. Witte wrote the reply in Russian and the secretaries translated it into French and English. M. Witte took occasion to denounce the report that the answer was dictated in St. Petersburg. He explained that his powers were such that it was not necessary for him to await instructions from St.
Petersburg or Port Arthur. Naturally, the chief Russian plenipotentiary has been in communication with the czar, but M. Witte is to be given credit for writing the reply.

A very important state of affairs exists regarding the credentials of the Japanese plenipotentiaries, and the end is not yet. Notwithstanding the official statement that with the exchange of credentials all difficulties upon that point were removed, the matter still is in issue. After the failure of Baron Komura to produce his credentials at the first session Wednesday an English copy was communicated to M. Witte with the statement that it was a copy, but the paper was in no wise attested. At Thursday's session Baron Komura submitted the original in Japanese but of course no member of the Russian mission could read it. M. Witte's credentials, while in Russian, were accompanied by a certified copy in French which bore the signature of Count Lamsdorff.

The difference in the powers conferred upon the two sets of plenipotentiaries also raised a very delicate point and one of the greatest moment.
In the Russian credentials the czar of Russia pledges his word of honor to sign any treaty which receives the approval of M. Witte. The power conferred upon M. Witte to negotiate and conclude a treaty of peace is absolute.
No restrictions are made. The ratification of the czar is pledged in advance.

Baron Komura's credentials, on the contrary, specifically provide that any treaty negotiated by Baron Komura must receive the imperial ratification of the emperor of Japan. They involve the reservation upon the part of the mikado of the right to reject the treaty. This divergence in the character of the credentials is so vital that
M. Witte communicated to Baron Komura an official diplomatic note wherein he notifies the Japanese chief plenipotentiary that while he stands ready to accept the full powers conferred upon him, in view of the limitation placed upon the powers of Japan's chief negotiator, he regards it as only proper that he should consider his powers limited in the same way.
In other words, unless the powers of Baron Komura are increased to make them coequal with those conferred upon M. Witte, Emperor Nicholas will have the right to ratify or reject any treaty that is negotiated.

CZAR POSTED.

He Knows Every Move That Is Being Made at Portsmouth.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 12.—The czar is closely watching every move made in the peace conference at Portsmouth, the details of which are fully reported to him. He is also fully posted as to the reply of M. Witte to the demands made by Japan.

The reply of Ambassador Witte to the Japanese will neither be an acceptance nor a declination of the conditions which Baron Komura presented, but will be an invitation to the Japanese plenipotentiaries to consider the terms piecemeal. Some of the terms are satisfactory to Russia and others must be modified or eliminated if there is to be an agreement at this time. A high government official declared flatly that the terms as they stood were entirely inadmissible and unacceptable, but that he was inclined to believe peace was not entirely out of the question.

"If that is Japan's first and last word," said this functionary, "I can tell you that M. Witte's reply will take the form of a very firm negative. If, however, the note which M. Witte will present discloses that the Japanese conditions are merely tentative proposals, a way may be opened for the continuance of our parleys. M. Witte did not require further instructions from St. Petersburg to assist him in formulating Russia's answer. His powers and instructions are ample.
He thoroughly understands how far the emperor is willing to go to secure peace."

(Bulletin.)

St. Petersburg, Aug. 12.—The hopeful tone which has been noted in the discussion of the peace outlook continues. The view which is taken that it will be possible to agree upon peace terms at the Portsmouth conference is based upon a series of optimistic telegram received from M. Witte. The papers here, headed by the Novoye Vremya, bitterly attack Japan. The papers also criticize both the United States and England, saying they are allies of Japan.

ODD STORY TOLD BY HEIRESS

WHOSE HUSBAND'S EXPENDITURE OF COIN OF THE REALM

Once Startled the People of Eastern Cities—Mysterious Cause of the Merchant's Demise.

Peoria, Ill., Aug. 12.—Edward Drouin formerly a wealthy and influential merchant of Philadelphia, died yesterday in this city. Drouin married the daughter of the late S. H. Thompson, a wealthy wholesale grocer of Peoria,
and inherited the entire fortune, which has since been wasted. When the body was found it was lying in the hallway of his residence. Drouin's wife apparently distracted by the death of her husband was holding the feet of the corpse in the air, in order, she said, to allow the soul to escape. Mrs.
Drouin was formerly a belle of this city. Her husband was a member of the firm of Work & Drouin, merchants.
The cause of death is a mystery which the coroner is endeavoring to solve.

DROUIN'S ECCENTRIC CAREER.

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 12.—Eight or nine years ago Edward Drouin flashed upon Atlantic City with his eccentricities and wealth. Slender, under the average height and at the time a comparatively young man in appearance, he started on a career of such generous expenditures that by common consent he was called "Monte Cristo." Drouin, broken in health, he was here
a month ago, accompanied by his wife, who was a nervous wreck. They saw none of their former acquaintances, however, but kept to the seclusion of their hotel.

Drouin's hand was constantly in his pocket, which seemed to have no bottom. Wherever he went, in cafes or public places, there were servitors to jump at the slightest wave of his hand. The tip was always lordly—never less than $1. Tips alone in his heyday must have aggregated $100 a day. He disrupted the messenger service, in both telegraph companies because of his liberality. Whenever the bell would sound calling from some resort which Drouin was known to patronize, all the messengers would go out of the office like a flying wedge on a football field. Their chase amused him, and the first to arrive would win his favor. Often the boys would be called upon to lift his foot, under which he had placed a $5 gold piece.

The "Count" paid in drafts on Philadelphia banks, and these were looked upon as good as government bonds for a year or more, for they were unfailingly paid. There came a day, however, when a clerk in the Second National Bank in this city refused to tolerate his crankiness, and the "Count" appeared before the bank officials and wanted the employee fired. He was turned off with a soft word, but he was unsatisfied.

A few days later, finding that the clerk was still holding his position, he started the bank by making a bold bid for all the stock that could be had to make up a majority in order that he could dismiss the clerk. He declared he would pay a bonus over the market value, but his money either failed on the stockholders did not take him seriously, as the clerk is still in the institution.

But Drouin did have the satisfaction of buying up Grist's livery stable for the pleasure of discharging an employee who offended him. While he was in the livery business he turned out in a small phaeton drawn by a diminutive pony.

His next conception was the buying of a newspaper. He wanted to be an editor and publisher. The Atlantic Journal was picked out and he drew up the papers and some cash was passed, but the deal was never consummated because Mrs. Drouin objected.

Easter came and Mr. Drouin's hobby was to "pick eggs" with the boys. He also frequently turned the trick frequently ascribed to "Coal Oil Johnny" of lighting his cigars with $1 and $5 notes. At one time he leased a large lawn in Atlantic City, on which he turned loose a flock of imported sheep.
Neighbors, however, raised such ruction that he quit after a week's experiment in stock raising in a seashore resort.

Ezra Plenkhar, 65, trunk manufacturer at Columbus, O., died suddenly of apoplexy.

eral of Panama, died Friday.

No Game Yesterday
The game at Mt. Vernon Friday was called off on account of rain. The two teams are playing at Mt. Vernon this afternoon and Nel Mason will probably pitch. This leaves Purcell for Sunday's game against Akron. If the management pitches Purcell today, the fans will have a chance to see Stone work again Sunday. This would be a winner and if the announcement is made that Stone will pitch, the crowd will be there.

President Morton's Bulletin.

The Butler club having posted its guarantee fee is granted all rights of the Protective Association. Contracts. Butler—L. P. Shottwell, William McCaffrey, C. R. Nolan, L. Traynor, W. B. McKeechie, F. Baseball Notes.
Shortstop Davis of the Newark team pulled down a line drive off Boyle's bat in the second inning which looked good for a safe hit. Davis doubled up Humphreys at second and when he came in from the field was given a round of applause by the fans. Davis took off his cap—Mt. Vernon Banner.
Schweitzer's home run in the second inning was the longest hit made on the Mt. Vernon grounds this year. It cleared the left field fence by several feet. Schweitzer was the first man up in this inning and hit the first ball pitched up. The little German also got a two sacker in the sixth inning.

Doyle's rowdy work in running in to Catcher Miller in the sixth inning was a contemptible exhibition of ball playing, says the Mt. Vernon Banner. Doyle is a dirty ball player and this is not the first time he has "shown off" on the local grounds. Last year he threw a ball at Empire Brown and came near hitting the official in the head.

If Joe Doyle played a dirty game at Mt. Vernon Thursday, it's the first time this year. Any one who states that Joe is a dirty player is either misinformed or makes a false statement. Newark ball players are not faultless but it is seldom that they forget themselves long enough to play "dirty ball."

Frank Reynolds jumped the Mt. Vernon team Friday, going to Lancaster. Frank plays a fair infield game, but his hitting is of no value, bingles being few and far between for him. Ray Knowles, recently with Joliet, Ill., will take his place there.

A stranger dropped into town Thursday night and has offered his services as a twirler on the local team. He says that all he wants is a suit and a chance. It is not known who the man is. Some think that he is a big leaguer out on an independent trip looking for players and working to get in touch with the men.

The "twirler" will get a trial, however, and if he works well he may pitch Saturday—Mt. Vernon Ex.
Manager Goodrich is arranging for a big public dance to be held at Mt. Vernon on Friday evening, August 25, the entire proceeds to be devoted to the base ball team. The price of the tickets will be 75 cents and each purchaser will be presented with a ticket admitting them to any baseball game which the team will play this season.

Howard Stone is attracting considerable attention over the circuit since his return to the Newark camp. His two games with two hits each look rather dangerous to some of Newark's prospective opponents.

Johnny Siegle of Urbana, has been signed by the Cincinnati Reds. Siegle, who is an outfielder as well as a pitcher, played with the Urbana team three years ago. He has frequently played on the local grounds and will be remembered by the fans as a crack ball player.

Kreuger of Niles had two doubles and two triples in four times up at Geneva Thursday.

Core, formerly with Canton, is playing fine ball in left field for Waynesburg, the $1,000 challenge team.

Manager Risher of Homestead has signed Faulk, the crack Salem twirler. Three years ago he worked in the coal mines.

Sammy Smith has been pitching fine ball since joining Braddock. He lost his first game to Waynesburg, Thursday.

Lefty Boyle with Mt. Vernon is pitching the best ball of his career this year. He is also taking good care of himself.

Duff, who started the season by pitching fine ball for McKeesport, has been getting his bumps of late.

Groninger of the Waynesburg team must be fast. He won a game for his team Thursday by scoring from second on a hit to the shortstop.

The Niles baseball team will play the Philadelphia Nationals at Myers Lake, near Canton, on Sunday. An excursion will be run from Niles to the game and a big crowd is expected as the contest will draw well from Canton, Akron and nearby towns.

ECKSTORM HERE
Looking For Material For the Medical Football Team—Nehls Was One of Locals Who Talked to Coach Eckstorm.

Dr. John Eckstorm, coach of the Ohio Medics at Columbus, was in Newark this week looking up material for his naught five eleven. Jack's eyes were cast longingly on Big Ed Nehls, the ponderous center of last year's High School eleven. It is rumored that the big coach talked with Nehls and offered "inducements" for that husky individual to study medicine or dentistry or pharmacy or something.

Nehls wants to remain in Newark this year, yet he does not care to miss the opportunity to get into college ball.

Harry Pine is another lad who will probably break into college football this year. He won a scholarship at Denison by his close application to his studies last year and it is known that Coach Stanton is anxious to see the boy come to old Denison.

Nehls is rather enthusiastic over Newark High's prospects for this year. He has vision of a heavy line, which can be corralled from the ranks of those who will enter the High school this fall with their Boxwell certificates.

Nehls talked to the Advocate man at the B. & O. last night while wrestling with a truck load of crates of celery, being employed by the L. S. Express Company. His clothing was damp from perspiration and big streams were running from his face. He stopped long enough to puff a little and gasp: "It's too hot to talk football tonight."

The newsmen agreed with him and the two decided to waive the subject for a few weeks.

"KING DOOLEY GROWLER GANG"

LANDS AT CITY PRISON FRIDAY NIGHT INTACT AFTER DAY'S CAROUSAL.

Salooneer Lost Patience and Called Officer—Three Sent to County Jail and One to Stone Pile.

The famous "King Dooley Growler Gang," one of Newark's most unpopular organizations, was humiliated Friday night and the members are highly indignant because of the alleged discourtesy of the local police department. This famous "growler gang" has broken into print on various occasions and is easily identified. Its members make a business of "boozing" and they don't do it in a half way fashion.

Friday night they were among the honored guests at the Klondyke saloon and they were so drunk that even the bar tender at this well known saloon could not stand for the action.

A call was sent to the police station and Officers Swank, Dailey, Jamison, Hager and Callan were detailed to raid the place and bring in the bunch. The gang was corralled and marched to the city prison. Those who registered at Herbert Atherton's lodging house were Frank Ross, William Cooksey, Henry Seigle, Bill Dooley, Charles Bohn and Crimpy Frazier.

The latter was fined $5 and costs and sent to the stone pile. Dooley and Bohn pleaded not guilty and will be given a hearing tonight. The first three were the favored ones and drew $5 and costs each and sent to the county jail where they will be given a diet of bread and water for a few weeks.

Frazier was in Officer Dailey's charge on the trip to the prison and he solemnly promised to leave town if Dailey would look the other way long enough for him to escape, but Dailey couldn't see it that way.

ANNUAL PICNIC OF ALL GRANGES

TOOK PLACE THURSDAY ON OLD PATASKALA FAIR GROUND WITH BIG CROWD.

After a Splendid Dinner a Program of Speeches Was Enjoyed—Byron Merrill Presided.

The annual picnic of all the granges of Licking County composed of the Patrons of Husbandry, took place Thursday, Aug. 10, at the old Pataskala fair grounds, one mile north of Pataskala. There was a large gathering of the members of the different granges throughout the county and the entire affair was a decided success in every particular.

Mr. Byron Merrill of Beech Corners, chairman of the executive committee, assisted by Jacob F. Keller and J. M. Lambert, had the matter of the picnic in charge, and they performed their different duties faithfully and well.

The members of the different granges and their friends began assembling about 10 o'clock in the forenoon, and by noon a large crowd had collected in the beautiful grove, constituting the old Pataskala fair grounds, which are now owned by Mr. Seymour Smith. At noon a bountiful and sumptuous dinner was served to all in true granger style, prepared by the skilled fingers of the fair patronesses of husbandry.

After the wants of the inner man had been fully satisfied and an hour had been spent in social intercourse, the assemblage was called to order, and Mr. Byron Merrill, as chairman of the day, introduced as the first part of the program several bright boys and girls, who delivered very creditable recitations. Delightful music was rendered throughout the day by the Basil Cornet band, which was highly appreciated by all.

At the conclusion of the speaking by the children, Chairman Merrill introduced as the principal speaker of the day Hon. Mortimer Whitehead of New Jersey, past lecturer of the National Grange, and an orator of distinguished reputation and ability. Mr. Whitehead spoke for nearly two hours, giving a comprehensive and forceful presentation of the history of the grange movement and the great good it had accomplished since its inception. He showed the injustice and inequality under which agriculture in this country labored, as compared with other industries, and his entire speech was a strong argument for organization and co-operation among the farmers to the betterment of this great and important industry and the uplifting of mankind.

Judge E. M. P. Brister of Newark was then introduced as the last speaker of the day. His remarks were brief, owing to the lateness of the hour, but to the point. His assertion was that agriculture was one of the greatest and most important industries of modern civilization and should receive just consideration at the hands of the legislator and the public. He exhorted the farmers to appreciate the grandeur of their calling and to work together in harmony, not only for their betterment as farmers, but for the uplifting and blessing of the world.

The entire occasion was a most delightful one, thoroughly enjoyed by all, and great credit is due the committee and all having the matter in charge.

Back to Oyster Bay.
Oyster Bay, N. Y., Aug. 12.—President Roosevelt on his return trip from Chautauque to Oyster Bay passed through New York, Pennsylvania and New Jersey. The president made brief addresses from the rear platform of his car at Salamanca, Hornellsville and Waverly.

TRADE REVIEW

Dun & Company's Reports are Less Uniformly Favorable—Lumber Men Have Busy Season.

New York, Aug. 12.—R. G. Dun & Company's weekly review of trade says trade reports are less uniformly favorable, but reverse factors are of a temporary nature and the net results for the week are satisfactory. Numerous strikes occurred, exerting the customary pernicious influence over business and the epidemic of yellow fever is restricting southern trade. On the other hand, thermal conditions facilitated retail trade, crop prospects greatly improved, and out of town buyers are numerous in all the leading markets. Manufacturing plants are increasingly active, textile mills still occupying the strongest position, while shoe shops are not making concessions to get business. Iron furnaces and steel mills make progress, but less rapidly. Lumber mills and dealers are having an exceptionally busy season. The only event that might weaken the position of cotton manufacturers would be the cancellation of Chinese orders, as many mills have withdrawn from the market on account of the export trade.

COUNTY FAIR BOARD MEETING

DIRECTORS ARE PREPARING FOR ANNUAL EXHIBITION AT OLD FORT.

Outlook for Successful Fair Is Very Bright—Dates This Year Oct. 3-7, Inclusive.

The regular meeting of the board of directors of the Licking County Agricultural Society was held on Saturday, with all members of the board in attendance, being Messrs. A. D. Burnside, S. J. Parr, E. O. Mitchell, William Curson, H. H. Baird, W. H. Kussman, T. W. Shannon, J. F. Lock, J. Willis Fulton, F. B. Dudgeon, Geo. Taylor and H. H. Simmons, with President W. H. Kussman in the chair.

Matters pertaining to the approaching fair were talked over, and it was the general consensus of opinion that the indications for the most successful fair ever held by the society, are very bright. The fair, which is to be held on October 3, 4, 5, 6 and 7, and while the members of the society are doing everything in their power they ask the cooperation of the people of the county.

At the meeting a committee consisting of Messrs F. P. Dudgeon, George R. Taylor and J. Willis Fulton was appointed to make arrangements for the erection of a new cattle barn, which will probably be built between the sheep and horse barns. It is estimated that the new cattle barn will cost about $1,000.

Superintendent George R. Taylor was authorized to have a new slate roof placed on Floral Hall. Secretary Farmer was instructed to secure tickets and all necessary supplies.

Arrangements were also made for the building of new toilet rooms inside of the track.

Secretary Farmer says that he has received numerous inquiries regarding privileges for the coming fair, and that he has already sold quite a number.

Grave Trouble Foreseen.

It needs but little foresight, to tell, that when your stomach and liver are badly affected, grave trouble is ahead, unless you take the proper medicine for your disease. As Mrs. John A. Young, of Clay, N. Y., did. She says: "I had neuralgia of the liver and stomach, my heart was weakened, and I could not eat. I was very bad for a long time, but in Electric Bitters, I found just what I needed, for they quickly relieved and cured me." Best medicine for weak women. Sold under guarantee by Hall's Drug Store, at 50c a bottle.

THREE TRIALS.

Each Time Frenzied Woman's Effort to Kill Herself Was Foiled.

New York, Aug. 12.—After a desperate struggle on the sill of a fifth story window, where Mrs. Rosa Schranke was prevented by a woman friend and a policeman from throwing herself into the street, Mrs. Schranke for the third time was prevented from killing herself. She drank water in which matches were soaked and tried to hang herself but the rope broke under her weight. She was finally removed to the hospital, where the poison from the matches made her ill, but it was expected that she would survive. Mrs. Schranke was a trapeze performer in Berlin a few years ago when a lieutenant in the German army induced her to elope with him. She continued to perform in the circus until she fell and was badly injured in Pittsburgh a few years ago. Then she came to New York, and three months ago her husband disappeared. Mrs. Schranke was despondent over her troubles.

LAUNCH HIT STUMP IN BUCKEYE LAKE

WOMEN FAINTED WHEN BOAT THREATENED TO UPSET IN DEEP WATER.

Negroes First to Board the Rowboats Which Came to Rescue of the Passengers on Board.

Its hull rammed by a large stump, an excursion launch loaded with men, women and children, who were attending the outing of the Columbus and Zanesville Knights of Columbus threatened to sink in deep water in Buckeye Lake near Lakeside at 8 o'clock Thursday evening, says Saturday's State Journal. Women were screaming and becoming hysterical when row boats came to the rescue. One woman fainted.

The crowds, comprising about ten men and 25 women and girls, from Zanesville and Columbus, were taking a ride to Lakeside. When within 300 feet of the shore a cable of the rudder broke and the boat drifted and ran upon a log. The launch swayed and threatened to upset.

The row boats came when the scene was alarming. In spite of the hysterical condition of the women, four colored musicians were the first to leap into the small boats when they pulled to. The men were rowed to the shore, the passengers commenting on their cowardice. At the same time another launch was coming to the rescue.

The woman who fainted was from Zanesville.

That Would Hold Both Asked For By Mrs. Aldrich—She Is Accused of Killing Two Children.

Grayling, Mich., Aug. 12.—Mrs. Naomi Aldrich of Frederic, is in the county jail here charged with the murder of her two little boys, aged 10 and 12 years. There was insurance on their lives amounting to $50 in each case, and the story is that the children were murdered to get this money.

Mrs. Aldrich, who is 28 years of age, has been twice married, first to Bert Soule, at West Branch, in 1895. Soule died in 1902, and was the father of the two boys the woman is accused of having murdered.

The widow married George Aldrich at West Branch in 1903. Aldrich was ANOTHER WONDER OF SCIENCE.

Biology has Proved that Dandruff is Caused by a Germ.

Science is doing wonders these days in medicine as well as in mechanics. Since Adam lived, the human race has been troubled with dandruff, for which no hair preparation has heretofore proved a successful cure until Newbro's Herpicide was put on the market. It is a scientific preparation that kills the germ that makes dandruff or scurf by digging into the scalp to get at the root of the hair, where it keeps the vitality; causing itching scalp, falling hair, and finally baldness. Without dandruff hair must grow luxuriantly. It is the only destroyer of dandruff. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

a divorced man. They lived together but a few months, one child being born to them, which died in its infancy. Aldrich left her and went to Cleveland, and Mrs. Aldrich came to Frederic over a year ago.

Early in July Mrs. Aldrich was visited by an insurance agent from Bay City and took out policies on the lives of her two boys for $50 each. On July 5 both were taken ill and one died July 8. When the undertaker brought a casket she is alleged to have said: "That is not the kind I want. I want a coffin to hold both of them." The other boy died the next day.

Dr. C. H. O'Neil, the coroner, was not satisfied with the symptoms of the boys' sickness, being the same in both cases. He suspected metallic poisoning and held a post mortem and then sent the stomachs away for analysis. The matter was placed before Prosecuting Attorney Oscar Palmer and a warrant issued for the woman's arrest.

RAILWAY RATE ON STANDARD OIL

COMPLAINT AGAINST COMPANY HAS RESULTED IN REDUCTION OF THE PRICE.

Railroaders are Arrested at Cleveland On Charge of Conspiracy—Railroad News Items.

Washington, Aug. 12.—Directly following upon the charge of the Gulf Refining company of Port Arthur, Tex., that the Illinois Central, Louisville and Nashville and a number of other railroads were parties to a combination with the Standard Oil company by which petroleum products were given low freight rates from northern points to New Orleans and a high rate was exacted on such products from New Orleans northbound, the roads mentioned in communications to the interstate commerce commission announced uniform rates on these products northbound and southbound. The rates will be those heretofore existing southbound.

The charges of combination in the complaint filed by the Gulf Refining company alleged that the difference in the rates between northbound and southbound petroleum operated as a bar to Texas and Louisiana oil entering the territory of the Standard Oil company, but did permit the Standard Oil company's products to enter territory in the south. The complaint was filed June 28 and the railroads were given 20 days in which to answer the charge. Before the expiration of this time an extension of 20 days was given.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 12.—What is believed to have been a conspiracy among employees of the Lake Shore railroad to rob the company of property in transit was unearthed by railroad detectives, and five men, all employed as brakemen or switchmen, were laced under arrest. The men are W. S. Ward and John Kelley of Cleveland, C. C. Duncan and C. J. Redfield of West Park and H. Verrity of Nottingham. The fact that one of the men was discovered with stolen property in his possession, it is alleged, first aroused suspicion. A search of their various places of abode, it is said, resulted in the discovery of much property that had been stolen from cars. When arraigned Ward and Kelley pleaded not guilty, while the other three men pleaded guilty. All the cases were continued pending further investigation.

Written by the Rev. Mr. Powell and Read at Meeting of Welsh Ladies Here This Week.

The original Welsh verses written by the Rev. Mr. Powell of Connellsville, Pa., and read at the home of Mrs. Maggie Williams of Locust street before a party of Welsh ladies Thursday afternoon, follow:

Rhwy'n mynd i wneyd barddoniaeth,
Ar destyn heb ei ail

Ac nid rhai'r plywff mi gofiwch

The friends and relatives of Henry Handley of Jacksonville congregated at his pleasant home in the village Thursday to celebrate his 35th birthday anniversary. Mr. Handley has passed 95 summers and today is as young and gay in spirits as if he had but passed only the 40th milestone, and one thing very remarkable for one that has lived so long and has passed through so many memorable events is that he has never taken a chew of tobacco, never smoked and has never taken a drink of whisky. Mr. Handley is a good conversationalist and it is a pleasure to talk with him and learn of the many interesting facts and happenings of the early days in old Licking and the surrounding country.

Mr. Handley has eight children living, six of whom were present on this occasion, Mrs. Pierson of California and Charles of Texas being absent. Those of the children that were present were Mrs. Jones of Denver, Mrs. Demude of Cleveland, Milton of South Dakota, Mrs. J. W. Etnire of Atherton, Mary of Jacksonville and Lon Handley of Gratiot.

Newark was represented by at least 30, Columbus sent a representation of 15, Zanesville, Reynoldsburg, Linville and many other points being represented. As to the dinner, it was the best the land can produce, and it was greatly enjoyed by all present.

Two of Newark's loveliest spinsters were visiting one of the season's charming brides a few days ago. They had been shown over the pretty, new establishments and had admired everything from the shining mahogany table in the parlor to the spotless gas range in the kitchen. Everything seemed eloquent of the idea that the old order of things, with its limitations and incongruities, had given place to a new and delightfully harmonious regime. This thought evidently engendered a feeling as nearly related to envy as could find lodgment in the comparatively unoccupied hearts of the two lovely but unattached ladies referred to above. Then someone mentioned the fact that all these charming household gods were wedding presents, and the two, swayed by one masterly thought, solemnly adjured each other with a breathless and explosive: "Why—?"

Then they sat down and proceeded to elaborate their mutual inspiration and the result is given to others who would gladly accept the emoluments of a wedding if it could be done without an accomplice. The following form of invitation is offered merely as a suggestion:

Mr. and Mrs. Algernon Stuyvesant, request your presence (both spellings) at her formal and final acceptance of single-blessedness.

One of the most pleasant events of the week was a surprise party given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Wilson, east of the city, celebrating the twenty-first birthday of their daughter, Miss Mona. The evening was spent in games and music. A fine solo was rendered by Miss Pearl Roberts.

Those present were: Misses Grace Priest, Eunice Wilson, Bessie Palmer, Jennie Ball, Pansy Nutter, Annie Ola Butler, Bessie Hrdlu mfwy kaj Neiberger, Blanche Neiberger, Ola Butler, Bessie Priest, Pearl Nutter, Goldie Priest, Libbie Lees, Mary Barrows, Nellie Hughes, Frances Lees, Mona Wilson, Florida Baughman, Lida Wilson, Rosa Wilson, Marguerite Wickham, Alice Wilson, Pearl Wilson, Veva Lyons, Ethel Woods, Cecil Hughes, Harriet Young, Pearl Roberts, Genevieve Miller; Messrs. John Nutter, Everett Priest, Arthur Neiberger, Eugene Montgomery, John Nutter, William Oatman, Grover Lamb, Wesley Taylor, Carl Simpson, George Young, Willie Taylor, Josie Wilson, John Lamb, Frank Redman, Charley Palmer, Cary Wilson, James Neiberger, Harry Wilson, George Wilson, and Bessie Priest; Mr. and Mrs. Roland Dues, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Hartman, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Butler, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Williams, Mr. and Mrs. James Wickham, Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. John Young. Those from a distance were: Misses Florence and Edythe Sagle of Roseville, O.; Sadie, Lottie, Christine Bullock of St. Louisville; Eva Vance, Ira Bilman and Allie Jones of St. Louisville; Messrs. William Bullock, Earle Moxley, George Moxley, James Vance of St. Louisville; Clyde Mount of Columbus; Vivian Morris, Mr. Niles, Syd Perkins and Charles Mills.

Under the chaperonage of Mr. and Mrs. Augustus T. Seymour of Columbus, the following party of campers has been spending the week at the Wyeth cottage on Orchard Island, Buckeye Lake; Miss Jare Ulrick of Lancaster, Miss Alice McCune, Miss Helen Crane, Miss Josephine Veach

SOCIETY BELLE

From Wheeling Had Two Narrow Escapes From Drowning in the Surf of the Atlantic.

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 12.—Miss Carrie Nixon, a young society belle of Wheeling, W. Va., had a narrow escape from drowning in the surf yesterday. She attempted to swim around a steel pier, and, becoming exhausted, was rescued by Life Guards Gale, Sprague, Conover and Davis. Excited bathers grabbed the boat and tried to drag it ashore. It was up in the heavy breakers and Miss Nixon was rendered unconscious by a blow on the head by an oar. She was lying again seaward by the strong undertow when one of the guards seized her sinking form and brought her ashore. There she was revived by Beach Surgeon Beckwith.

Fraud Exposed.

A few counterfeiters have lately been making and trying to sell imitations of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, and other medicines, thereby defrauding the public. This is to warn you to beware of such people, who seek to profit, through stealing the reputation of remedies which have been successfully curing disease, for over 35 years. A sure protection, to you, is our name on the wrapper. Look for it, on all Dr. King's or Bucklen's remedies, as all others are mere imitations. H. E. DR. SVEN HEDIN'S WORK.

Though Still Young, He Has Done Enough For a Lifetime.

Dr. Sven Anders Hedin, the Swedish geographer and explorer who has written to Sweden in America urging them to raise $75,000,000 for the increase of the naval defenses of Sweden, is an ardent patriot, and he has reason to feel grateful to his country and its government, for his work in behalf of science was made possible by the generous aid King Oscar and the Swedish riksdag have extended him. An alliance with the Swedes in America is the only Scandinavian alliance we Swedes at home can think of," he says.

DR. SVEN ANDERS HEDIN.

He was born in Stockholm in 1865 and educated at Stockholm, Upsala, Berlin and Halle, at the university of the latter city receiving the degree of doctor of philosophy. In 1885 he undertook a journey of exploration in Persia and Mesopotamia.

In 1890 King Oscar sent an embassy to the late Shah of Persia, and Hedin was a member of the party. The next year he made a journey through Khurasan and Turkestan. A dozen years ago very little was known about the mysterious land of Tibet. In 1893 Dr. Hedin set out on a trip from the Russian frontier to Peking through a portion of Tibet and the Lohor region. His accounts of his experiences, which were quite adventurous, and of his scientific observations, which were of much value, excited keen interest and led to his undertaking in 1899 another expedition to the same region. This time he had a large caravan, was backed by King Oscar and had the aid of the czar of Russia and the special assistance of General Kuropatkin. He devoted three years to gathering material regarding the geography, geology, ethnology and plant and animal possessions of the regions explored. He learned much about Tibet, though he was not permitted to enter Lassa.

girl she was very popular with the English public and has always had inclinations to be unconventional and democratic. Her marriage to Prince Charles occurred July 22, 1896, and a son was born to the royal couple on July 2, 1903.

On his marriage to Princess Maud the young man who covets the Norwegian throne received a settlement of $2,500,000 as his wedding gift and a splendid residence in Copenhagen. His mother was an only child of the late Charles XV. of Sweden and Norway, and his grandmother was Princess Louise of the Netherlands, who at the time of her marriage to King Charles was accounted a great heiress. Prince Charles as a boy at school was mixed up in a bawdy affair which resulted in the death of a fellow student.

Folk Who Are Talked About

Attorney General Moody's New Task.
Witte's Legal Advice—Judge Calvin
Page—Minister Edicks—Maud Gonne's Troubles.

ATTORNEY GENERAL
W. H. MOODY.

THOUGH this is the season when professional men usually take things easy and go on long vacations, the attorney general of the United States, William H. Moody, is delving into the details of the department of agriculture. Mr. Moody is a man who thrives on hard work. He is considered to resemble the president both in figure and in the strenuousness of his habits. The attorney general is not so impulsive as Mr. Roosevelt, but is built on much the same lines physically, being of medium height, stocky appearance and ruddy, well browned complexion. Like the president, he is athletic, walks eight or ten miles a day and is a good horseman. Before Mr. Moody was attorney general he was secretary of the navy, and before that he was in congress. He went to congress with a high reputation as a lawyer. His conduct of the commonwealth side of the celebrated Lizzie Borden case at Fall River, Mass., had heralded his name throughout the country. During the drawing of seats at the beginning of the Fifty-fourth congress he and another shrewd, heavy set young congressman found themselves sitting side by side.

"Haven't I seen you somewhere?" asked Mr. Moody's neighbor.

"Really, I don't know. It is possible we have met somewhere," was the reply.

"Oh, I know you! You were counsel for the commonwealth in the Lizzie Borden trial and your name is Moody. My name is Quigg, and I reported that trial for the New York Tribune." And the lawyer and reporter, now national legislators, shook hands.

On his mission to this country to confer about terms of peace between Russia and Japan M. Sergius Witte, the czar's chief envoy, has the advice of a professor of international law, Frederick von Martens, whose opinions on subjects pertaining to international relations carry much weight in Europe. Although of German extraction, his career has been associated chiefly with Russia, and he has been of great service to that country in past years in the good use he has been able to make of his knowledge of international law and foreign affairs. Professor von Martens was born in 1843 at Pernau, in Livland, one of the Baltic provinces. He clings to the "von" in his name because it marks him as belonging to the minor German nobility. Most of the leading Russian and German universities have conferred degrees on Professor Martens.

FREDERICK VON
MARTENS.

Since 1871 he has been professor of international law at the University of St. Petersburg. He has served as special commissioner of the Russian government on several important occasions, has been prominent in connection with The Hague peace conference movement, has written much for reviews and magazines and is the author of several books, among them "The International Rights of Civilized Nations," "The Brussels Conference and the Oriental War of 1877" and "The Right of Private Property in War."

The honor of being the host of the Russian and Japanese peace commissioners during their stay at Portsmouth falls on Judge Calvin Page, a well known New Hampshire lawyer. The quarters of the visiting foreigners are the Hotel Wentworth, on the Atlantic coast a few miles from the city of Portsmouth. They travel back and forth each day between this hotel and the Portsmouth navy yard, where they hold their sessions. The hotel is owned by the estate of the late Frank Jones, and Judge Page, as one of the trustees of the estate, manages the property. It was in this way that he extended the courtesies of the resort to the peace conference and said that no board bill would be rendered, as the honor of entertaining such a distinguished party would be a sufficient consideration. However, Judge Page is quoted as saying that he hopes the conference will not last so long that it will involve keeping the hotel open after the regular summer guests have departed and making special provision for the envoys and their attaches, since the building is designed only for use during the warm months. The judge is quoted as saying concerning his guests:

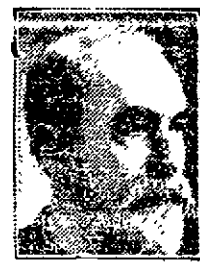

JUDGE CALVIN

"About the menu? Japanese, I'm told, eat snowballs and rats. Now, our rats here in Portsmouth are not very fat, and I'm afraid won't come up to the standard. But Russians, I'm told, are great for fish. In Russia every man of wealth, so I'm told, has a private tank of his own into which he casts the live fish, taking them out as fast as required. So, you can see, we can suit the Russians easily, and, as for the Japanese, they are very cultured and polite and will understand that we are unable to accommodate them with the snowball and rat diet, and everything will be all right."

Colonel John Hicks, the new minister of the United States to Chile, is a newspaper man, an author and a diplomat. He is a Wisconsin man, but was born in Auburn, N. Y., in 1847. When he was a child his family removed to the Wolverine State, and when the civil war came along his father joined the army and was killed in fighting for his country. Young Hicks had to struggle in making his upward climb, but he worked his way through college, joined the staff of the Oshkosh Northwestern and gradually won a name for himself in journalism. He is now owner and editor of the Northwestern, has written much under the pen name of Sandy Broad and is the author of "The Man From Oshkosh." Colonel Hicks was appointed minister to Peru by the late President Harrison. As minister to Chile he succeeds Henry L. Wilson, who was transferred to Belgium.

JOHN HICKS.

John Kendrick Bangs once ran across a gift copy of one of his books in a secondhand bookshop, still having this inscription on the fly leaf: "To his friend, J. G., with the regards and esteem of J. K. Bangs, July, 1899." Mr. Bangs bought the copy and sent it to his friend again with a second inscription beneath: "This book, bought in a secondhand bookshop, is re-presented to J. G., with renewed and reiterated regards and esteem by J. K. Bangs, December, 1899."

There are some peculiar features in the suit for divorce which Mrs. John McBride, better known by her maiden name of Maud Gonne and often called "the Irish Joan of Arc," has brought in Paris against her husband, the gallant colonel of the Irish brigade which fought on the side of the Boers in the South African war. When the beautiful and eloquent pleader for the cause of Ireland united her fortunes with those of the officer who fought so bravely in the Boer war, the romance of the union attracted much attention. Both were picturesque figures, both were devoted to the idea of freeing Ireland from English rule through the use of the sword, and their marriage was supposed to be a case of true love. But it has proved otherwise. In the course of the trial in Paris the counsel for Colonel McBride, Maitre Labord, who defended Dreyfus, asserted that the Irish Joan of Arc was subject to hallucinations, giving as an example her belief that she is the reincarnation of an ancient Irish queen. He argued that her belief that her husband was unfaithful was simply another of her hallucinations.

MAUD GONNE

There is a story that Mrs. McBride might have had for a husband no less a hero than the renowned English general, Lord Kitchener. According to the story, he ceased to be a suitor for her hand when she asked him to lead an Irish army against England.

George S. Nixon, successor of William M. Stewart as senator from Nevada, is a native of California and forty-four years of age. He is a business man and his early career was one of struggle against adverse circumstances. He learned telegraphy and when scarcely more than a boy was an operator at a lonely station in Nevada. He obtained a position in a bank and rose from one post to another until in 1886 he organized the First National Bank of Winnemucca, of which he is president. He now controls four other banks and also owns valuable mining property and several large cattle ranches. He at one time owned a newspaper and has served in the Nevada legislature. Senator Nixon supported William J. Bryan in 1896 and 1900, but for several years has acted with the Republican party. Fifteen years ago the senator had an adventure with bank robbers which he will not forget as long as he lives. He was alone one evening in the Winnemucca bank when five desperadoes rode up and proceeded to take possession of the premises. Before he could reach for his Winchester, which was ten feet away, he was covered with a Colt's revolver and was ordered to throw up his hands. The outlaws placed a knife at his throat, and he was forced to unlock the safe and give the robbers $25,000 in cash. Not a cent of that booty has ever been captured. The robbers were pursued as soon as an alarm could be given and a party collected, but they got away.

HOW THEY WILL NEGOTIATE

Dispute May Not Mean Early End of Peace Conference.

An official of the United States government who is thoroughly familiar with the situation in the far east from personal investigation on the ground, and who has had opportunities for observing the course of peace negotiations similar to those to be conducted at Portsmouth, N. H., said, according to a special dispatch from New Castle, N. H., to the New York Times, that many people and some newspapers seemed to have an erroneous idea of the way the thing was likely to be done.

"It is assumed, and doubtless rightly," said he, "that the terms laid down by Japan at the outset will not be such as Russia can agree to. The erroneous assumption is that a dispute will mean the prompt breaking off of negotiations."

"What will happen will be this: Japan will state some conditions that Russia cannot accept, but the Russians will not say so. They will pass on to some other feature of the discussion, and the next day they will ask to have the disputed point—say the indemnity, for example—explained more fully, as they did not suppose the Japanese could mean exactly what the demand appeared to imply. Then a counter demand will come in, and so the proposition at issue will be skillfully fought out from day to day.

"Only in the last resort, and when it is evident that every trick and stratagem has been in vain, will the desperate act of breaking off the negotiations be adopted.

"Another thing which should be borne in mind is that time is fighting for Russia. That country is not in such desperate straits as her repeated defeats indicate. She has been thoroughly beaten, but Japan needs peace as badly as does Russia. Her resources are not so great. Japan is, in fact, a poor country, as far as the resources of the soil are concerned. Let the war drag on for years and Japan will wear out financially.

"Both Russians and Japanese know this, and that is why the contest at Portsmouth is not going to be as one-sided as is popularly supposed. It is really a pretty even thing. The Japanese have won their victories, but time will win much for the Russians. The probability is that Japan will demand much more than she expects to get in order to save the bare bones of what she really wants. It would not surprise me to see the only Russian victory of the war won at Portsmouth."

MAYOR DUNNE ON GRAFT.

Says People Will Claim Their Own to Betterment of the Nation.

In an interview at Atlantic City, N. J., on graft which has come to light in cities throughout the United States Mayor Dunne of Chicago, elected on a platform that demanded straightforwardness and honest discharge of public duties, spoke in part as follows, says the New York Tribune:

"The people of the states and municipalities of this republic have grown thoroughly tired of seeing the public possessions plundered and exploited in the interests of private capitalists. There is no doubt that it is very widespread. It is plainly manifested in the political revolt and governmental upheaval that has taken place in Philadelphia, it is shown in Folk's progress in Missouri, in La Follette's achievements in Wisconsin, in the acclaim with which the people have greeted Layson's disillusion in the world of finance, and it is made plain in the recent political developments in Chicago as well as in a score of other places.

"It is a case of the people coming after a long time to claim possession of their own. After the civil war, by which the graft system was first introduced into our government, the people were too busy with money making and other affairs of immediate importance to pay much attention to the germ of corruption, and the way of the grafter was comparatively easy. But now the people are beginning to rise in revolt against a condition too long tolerated, and the effect of their rising is being felt in every part of the country. Work for good is being done now that will endure for generations to come, and, while there may be lapses here and there, the general effect will be a permanent betterment in all the features of our various governmental system."

"A" and "an" and "H."

Do you use "a" or "an" before the aspirate? The London Chronicle, in discussing the matter, says that the Oxford "Rules for Compositors," a book of real authority, gives "an habitual," "an historical," whereas one says "a habit," "a history." It is a question of phonetic laziness, adds the Chronicle.

The "n" of the article is a mere step over the stile, and the stile is the aspirate at the beginning and the accent on the second syllable. A hotel is the crucial instance. With the accent on the first syllable, that is right. But give the stress to the second syllable and you must say "an hotel." It is a mere question of stress, accent, that later syllable. "A history" may be correct, but when there comes the novel it must be "an historical novel," for you could not say the other thing without sneezing.

SELECTIONS

THE WAR CORRESPONDENT.

He Must Have a Soldier's Courage and a Diplomat's Tact.

In reporting a war the first and most important question naturally arises over the selection of correspondents. The number of men qualified by nature and education for such a task is very limited. Your war correspondent must be physically capable of withstanding the hardships of the field. He must be also as courageous as any soldier. Indeed, his lot is an even harder one, because he must put himself in places of the greatest danger without the patriotic fervor, the touch of a comrade's elbow or the possession of a rifle, all of which are large factors in making up a trooper's bravery. He must be capable of describing what he sees accurately and graphically. He must have as large a perspective as the commanding general if he seeks to tell the whole story of the battle.

But he may have all of these primal requisites and still prove a failure. He must be temperamental, a diplomat and capable of ingratiating himself into the sympathetic and helpful friendship of those with whom he comes in contact. He may be an ideal representative at the headquarters of an American general, but wholly incapable of serving satisfactorily with the Russians or the Japanese. As an illustration, all of our men on the Russian side speak either Russian or French. If they did not they would be useless. At least three of them are long time personal friends of General Kurapatkin.

Above all, the war correspondent must possess in marked degree that familiarity with events and affairs which will command the confidence of those in power about him. His influence often extends beyond his primary mission of reporting and strays into the field of international diplomacy. For instance, during the Boxer rebellion in China one of the Associated Press correspondents was sought out and consulted by the commander of one power represented in the allied expedition as to his proper attitude toward the military representative of an other power whose actions were causing grave concern in that delicate hour.—Melville E. Stone in Century.

Hay Fever.

The season of hay fever is upon us, when the most superstitious of our friends will grow tired of invoking a blessing every time we sneeze. The custom, supposed to date from the time when Prometheus invoked a blessing upon the figure of clay that came to life with a sneeze, is condemned by St. Chrysostom and other early Christian writers. Still, the victim to hay fever may console himself for the lack of a blessing by the philosophy of the old English rhyme:

Sneeze on Monday, sneeze for danger;
Sneeze on Tuesday, kiss a stranger;
Sneeze on Wednesday, get a letter;
Sneeze on Thursday, something better;
Sneeze on Friday, sneeze for sorrow;
Saturday, see your true love tomorrow.

A Partisan Story.

A Paris youth named Armand Gally killed his sweetheart and attempted to commit suicide. At his trial counsel for the defense described the youth as a poet and read a pathetic verse which he said he had written. The jury was touched and acquitted the prisoner. Now Viscount de Borrelli has written to the papers: "Here is an exceedingly humorous business. One Armand Gally kills a woman and tries to kill himself, but of course fails, as they always do. At the trial counsel reads, as being the work of his client, a poem by him, published some three years ago in the Gaulois, and of course the jury acquits him. It appears to me that I deserve to be congratulated in this matter."

Victor Hugo's House.

The French literary hero worshippers are a serious lot. A proposal to place a bust of Victor Hugo in the courtyard of the last house he occupied in Paris before going into exile in 1851 brings to light a couple of curious facts. The house stands in the Rue la Tour d'Auvergne and is in much the same condition as when Hugo lived there. The concierge who had Hugo into his rooms is still concierge at ninety-three, and the tenant who succeeded Hugo has never left. He is M. Robin, vice president of the Society For the Aid of Shipwrecked Seamen. He is eighty-six. Hero worship seems to be preservative.

Foreign Circus Performers.

Although the circus is an institution peculiarly and typically American, over 90 per cent of the circus performers and specialists are foreigners. Mr. Bailey calls attention to this in his prospectus, stating that in Europe the struggle for existence is so sharp that people will attempt things in which failure means death and which no American would think of undertaking in order to fit themselves for the terrors of the ring of some American circus, where they are certain of a good salary.—E. S. Hallock in Century.

Paganini's Violin.

Kocian, the Bohemian violinist, was the other day permitted to draw a bow across Paganini's Gaglianeri violin, which for sixty years has been resting in a glass case in a Genoa museum. Herr Kocian played one of Bach's airs and also a concerto of Paganini. The audience was greatly impressed. The violin was then replaced in the glass box and again sealed in the presence of the spectators.

AUGUST DELIGHTS.

GOOD THINGS ON THE CHOICE AND TIMELY MENU.

A Dessert Very Refreshing For Days of Great Heat—A Cooling but Stimulating Concoction—In the Green Corn Season.

One of the most refreshing yet simplest of desserts for a hot summer day is a plain lemon ice served in a simple what novel manner. The fruit selected is small and quite round. A thick slice is cut from the end of each lemon in such a way as to leave a strip which will serve as a handle and the pulp scooped out with a spoon. The latter is then squeezed, mixed with three times as much sugar and five times as much water and frozen. The cut end of each lemon is cut in scallops or points, and the rind baskets are packed in ice and salt until they are needed for serving. They are then wiped dry, filled with the frozen ice and served on a platter surrounded with small fancy cakes.

FRANZ COFFEE.

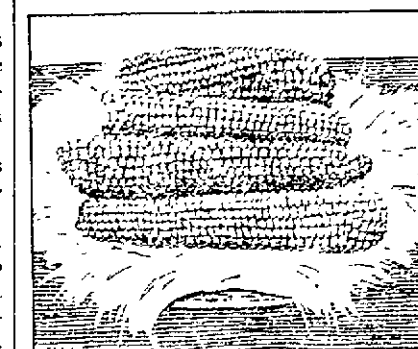

[With whipped cream and crystallized fruit leaves.]

A second cooling dish for warm weather is frozen coffee. To make this coarsely ground coffee is steeped in milk in a double boiler, using about three tablespoonfuls to each quart. After twenty minutes' infusion in the hot milk the mixture is carefully strained and a scant cupful of sugar dissolved in it. When chilled add one teaspoonful and a half of vanilla extract and freeze slowly to an ice. This is heaped in tall glasses, a spoonful of whipped cream placed on top and several crystallized mint leaves added as a garnish.

To prepare these leaves select them of good size, rinse in cold water and dry very thoroughly between cloths. Boil together for five minutes one cupful of granulated sugar and one-third of a cupful of hot water. Take from the fire and, without stirring, dip each leaf in this syrup, then in fine granulated sugar. Lay separately on paraffin paper until cold and keep in a cool, dry place until needed.

The reason for green corn is now at its height, and there are other ways of serving it besides boiling and stewing. When the pulp is required, score down the center of each row with a sharp knife, then press out the pulp with the back of the blade. In this way the indigestible hulls remain on the discarded cobs. For a mudding which is served as a vegetable mix with one pint of this pulp one cupful of milk, one-quarter of a cupful of melted butter, four well beaten eggs, two-thirds of a teaspoonful of salt, a dash of pepper and four tablespoonfuls of flour. Turn into a well greased pudding dish and bake in a moderate oven until firm in the center. For timbales for a family of six add to one pint of pulp a half cupful of milk, a half teaspoonful of salt, a dash of pepper and five well beaten eggs. Fill buttered Gimble molds, stand them in a pan of warm water and cook in a very moderate oven until firm in the center. This will take from fifteen to twenty-five minutes, according to size. For fritters or gems, as they are sometimes called, add to three cupfuls of pulp three well beaten eggs, three tablespoonfuls of milk, a high seasoning of salt and pepper and sufficient flour to make a drop batter. At the last stir in one teaspoonful of baking powder and drop by small spoonfuls in deep, smoking hot fat or saute in a frying pan. By using half the quantity of flour the batter will make savory pancakes.

A cold dessert served under the name of Japanese ice cream is a simple custard thickened with rice flour. This is served in glass dishes, a spoonful of preserved orange being dropped over the custard. Table Talk.

A Point in Pic Crest.

In making pie, when the dough is rolled out for the upper crust, put it on a plate and cut around the plate. If so, the plate the right size so as to leave a vacant place of about one-third of an inch all around the pie, and in this way avoid that black edge of crust, which is a help to prevent the juice from leaking out, says an exchange.

A Bath Mat.

The round Japanese straw mat for porch use may be utilized as a bath mat to save a penny and laundry. Stand it up to dry when you are through with it.

Varenka Arkadyevna

(Original.)

One morning several years ago two young men, Turvostin and Bronski—were sitting in Bronski's room in Warsaw, Russian Poland, hatching revolution. Suddenly there were footsteps on the stairs and in another moment the door was thrown open and the police rushed in. Turvostin nodded toward Bronski and the police arrested him. As they were taking him away he reproached Turvostin with having betrayed him, whereupon the latter remarked coolly that there was no betrayal, since he was simply doing his duty as an officer in the secret service. Bronski was sent to Siberia, where, after intolerable sufferings, he died of prison consumption.

Several years after Bronski's arrest, while Turvostin, who was now chief of police in Russian Poland, was riding in his carriage in Warsaw, a man fired a shot at him. At the moment a girl who stood by the window was assassinated by the weapon and saved Turvostin's life. The man who fired the shot was spirited away by accomplices so quickly that the police did not even get on his track. The chief saw the whole affair and directed that the girl be sent to his office. When she arrived there he said to her:

"You are a brave girl to have interfered with an assassin, and I owe you my life. What can I do to repay you?"

"Please, excellency, I would like to serve the government."

"In what capacity?"

"In the secret service. I have many friends among the revolutionists, who consider me one of them. I could learn much of their plans and report them to you."

"You shall have every opportunity, and for every ruble you earn I will see that you are paid ten."

The girl, who gave her name as Varenka Arkadyevna, from that moment enrolled in the secret police, where she served for a long while, often bringing in information of the revolutionists. There was a singular personality about her that fascinated Turvostin. At times he thought she loved him, and at times she acted as if she hated him. There are few men who will not be caught by such uncertainty. Turvostin fell desperately in love with her.

Varenka's bravery, too, was fascinating to her lover. She told him that her real status was known to some of her revolutionist friends, but she did not fear to go where they were, though always armed to the teeth. One thing at last began to mystify Turvostin. Though Varenka often led the police to capture some revolutionist, when the force arrived the bird had always flown.

Varenka lived in first class apartments which were paid for by the government. One day the chief appeared at her apartments with trouble written on his face.

"Sweetheart," he said, "I have noticed that we never gain anything from the information you bring us. Every meeting of revolutionists you have told us of has for some reason failed to take place. Besides, certain persons whom we have intended to arrest have in some unaccountable way been warned and have escaped us. And now comes one of our women in the secret service bureau who accuses you of being a revolutionist, of giving them all our secrets."

"Who is my accuser?"

"Katia Postoloff."

Varenka grew a shade whiter. Going to another room she took a pistol from a drawer, put it in her bosom and returning to her lover said:

"I may as well make a confession, for Katia can prove her accusation."

"Great heavens!" exclaimed Turvostin, catching at the back of a chair for support.

"Do you remember," Varenka went on, "your bosom friend Bronski?"

"I do," gasped Turvostin.

"I am his sister. I was far from him at the time you betrayed and arrested him, but I determined that some day I would avenge him. While he suffered the tortures you heaped upon him my resolution grew stronger. When he died I determined to execute a plan I had formed. The man who fired at you was my accomplice, and there were twenty revolutionists standing by to take him to safety. I knocked up his pistol on purpose to win your confidence. Having won from you all I can for my people, the moment of my supreme vengeance has come."

People living on the floor below heard a shot and came running up the stairs to see what was the matter. Varenka stood at her door and asked them if they had not heard a shot. They replied that they had and that the sound seemed to have come from that floor, whereupon she said that it sounded to her to have come from the rear apartments. She spoke so calmly as if she had been used to having shots fired near her all her life. The excited people went to the rear apartments to learn that nothing unusual had occurred there. The occupants were so sure that the shot had come from the front room that they went to Varenka's apartments and brooded. There was no answer to their summons. They concluded, and all agreeing that something must be wrong, they decided to burst into the floor. They did so, and saw that on the floor Turvostin, the chief of police, lay dead.

Varenka Arkadyevna was never seen again in any part of Russia, though the police searched the empire for her. Rumor says that she is living in England on the large sums paid her by the police for her secret service work.

EXCITEMENT

Caused By Man Following Polishers Who Were Escorted Home by Officers From Wehrle Plant.

Considerable excitement was occasioned Friday evening between 5 and 5:30 o'clock on West Church street in the vicinity of Ninth. Two policemen were escorting several of the polishers now working at the foundry, to their homes and were followed by several men who hurled insulting epithets at both the polishers and the policemen.

"Watch that fellow on the bicycle," one of the polishers was heard to remark to the officers, indicating a man who was following on a wheel. The officers stopped and warned the crowd away, but this did not have the desired effect. The officers then drew their guns and gave the pursuers to understand that they meant business. The men then dispersed.

JOHN DAGUE NARROWLY ESCAPED
DROWNING FRIDAY NIGHT
NEAR GRANVILLE.

Two Valuable Animals Entangled in Harness Drowned in Spite of Heroic Effort to Save Them.

Granville, O., Aug. 12.—Mr. John Dague, a young farm hand who is employed by Mr. Thomas Dunaway on his farm a short distance west of the village, had a thrilling experience Friday night by which he nearly lost his life. Mr. Dague was driving a team of valuable horses attached to a heavy farm wagon, and attempted to ford the Raccoon creek, west of the village. The recent heavy rains had caused the waters to rise, and when Mr. Dague reached the middle of the stream the current was so swift that it swept the horses from under his feet, and the whole outfit was carried away. Mr. Dague sprang from the wagon and succeeded in reaching the shore in safety, when he and a number of the neighbors attempted to save the horses. The animals, however, became entangled in the harness, and drowned before they could be liberated from the wagon.

IMMIGRANT

Held Up at Ellis Island—Gave a 28-Story Building and Land Worth a Fortune as Security.

Dayton, Aug. 12.—Christian Tschabrun, a native of the Tyrol, Austria, has arrived in Dayton to join his family after an experience with the immigration laws he did not expect. When Tschabrun arrived he was detained at Ellis Island, apparently on account of his age, for he had $1200 in money and was to join his family, who are well-to-do here. He sent word here and his daughter, Mrs. Zengle, and Anton Amann, a newspaper reporter, hurried to New York.

On their arrival they found the old gentleman undergoing a hearing of his protest against deportation. The protest was overruled and Amann filed an appeal, which was forwarded to the department of labor and commerce. Daytonians were finally informed that Tschabrun would be allowed to land under a bond of $1000, secured by real estate, the deeds for which must be filed in the office of the immigration commissioner. This could not be secured in New York and time was not allowed Amann to come to Dayton. Finally Tschabrun enlisted the sympathy of two members of the Catholic Gesellenverein in New York, one of whom put up as security a deed for a 28-story building and the other a deed for land worth $250,000. Tschabrun was liberated and allowed to come to Dayton.

Amann asserts that 450 immigrants were held in a comparatively small, ill-ventilated and scantily lighted detention room at New York with Tschabrun and suffered privations for 12 days. He says there were no tables or chairs in the room and all had to sleep on the cement floor or stand up all the time, there being no other alternative, the only freedom being that given when taken to their meals.

Sick headache results from a disordered condition of the stomach and is quickly cured by Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. For sale by all druggists.

TIENTSIN TREATY VIOLATED

Boycott Against United States Runs Counter to Treaty Obligations When the Chinese Attempt to Interfere With the Landing of Imports From This Country.

Washington, Aug. 12.—Advices from Shanghai say there is increasing alarm because of the rapid spread of the Chinese boycott against the United States.

It is said the president instructed Minister Rockhill to warn the Chinese government that the United States will insist on the full observance of article 15 of the Tientsin treaty of 1858. Article 15 of the Tientsin treaty provides that "at each of the ports open to commerce citizens of the United States shall be permitted to import from abroad, and sell, purchase and export all merchandise of which the importation or exportation is not prohibited by the laws of the empire."

The state department at Washington, some days ago, directed the attention of Minister Rockhill to this particular article, in view of the published reports that it was the intention of those managing the boycott to interfere with the landing of American goods and to prevent stevedores from removing American goods from vessels in Chinese ports. It is the opinion of the state department that any such act would be in violation of article 15, and Minister Rockhill was instructed to call the attention of the Chinese government to these reports and the treaty with a view of preventing any interference in the landing of American goods in China.

It is supposed at the department that China has already taken action on Minister Rockhill's communication, and officials at different ports have been instructed to see that the provisions of the treaty are not violated. No complaints have been received at the state department indicating that the threats at interference with American commerce were carried out, but it was to forestall anything of this kind that instructions were sent to Minister Rockhill.

Odd Fellows.

All arrangements are rapidly being perfected for the grand picnic and outing to be held at Olentangy park, Columbus, on Friday, Aug. 25, under the auspices of the several lodges of Odd Fellows of this city. Invitations have been extended to all the Odd Fellows' lodges in the county, and the indications are that an immense crowd will go to Columbus on the day of the outing. A special program of events is being prepared, and a splendid time is assured all who attend. Arrangements have been made with the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, and a special train will leave the Panhandle depot, this city, at 8:30 o'clock a. m. An invitation is extended to everybody to participate in a day's outing at this beautiful resort. The fare for the round trip is only 65 cents. Procure your tickets from the committee or at the Pennsylvania ticket office.

The Encampment branch of Odd Fellowship is one of the most beautiful branches of the order. Each member should set to work to induce all who cross the portals of Odd Fellowship to continue to advance through all the gradations of the subordinate and Rebekah into the Encampment, and even then not rest until into the ranks of the Patriarchal Militant. The origin of Patriarchal Odd Fellowship began in the desire to reach a higher pinnacle than that obtained in the subordinate lodge. The completed framework of the Encampment branch of Odd Fellowship was not accomplished until May 15, 1827, when the Grand Lodge of the United States granted a charter for an Encampment in which the three degrees were to be conferred. Previous to this time these degrees were co-existent with those of the subordinate lodge, and were conferred upon past grands in a Grand Lodge. The Golden Rule degree, the first of which there is any record, was called the fourth degree. The Royal Purple degree is claimed to be of American origin. It was introduced in the Grand Lodge of the United States March 30, 1825, and was called the fifth degree. The Patriarchal degree was written by a member in England, and was brought to this country by Past Grand McCormick of Maryland, who conferred it on Grand Sir Wilkey and Brother Welch, and by them upon the members of the Grand Lodge, Sept. 20, 1825.

Knights of Pythias.

Arrangements are rapidly being perfected for the big picnic and outing to be held under the auspices of Newark and Roland Lodges, Knights of Pythias, at the beautiful Buckeye Lake on Wednesday, Aug. 23. As both these lodges have a large membership, and all the lodges in the county, together with the lodges in Columbus, Zanesville and other points, have been invited to participate in the event, the indications are that this will be one of the largest and most successful outings of the season. A fine program of sports is being prepared by the committee having the matter in charge, and these attending the outing are assured of a splendid time.

At the meeting of Newark Lodge No. 13, Knights of Pythias, held on Thursday evening, there was a good attendance of the members, but owing to the fact that Chancellor Commander W. J. Johnson was unable to be present on account of sickness, only business of a routine nature was transacted. Past Chancellor J. H. Wilson occupied the chair and presided over the meeting with his usual ability. At the conclusion of the meeting a short social session was held, at which cigars were enjoyed.

Modern Woodmen of America.

Cedar Camp No. 427, M. W. of A., met in regular session on Wednesday evening, Aug. 9, with 57 members present. Four applications for membership were received and balloted on and one candidate was shown through the secrets of woodcraft. Neighbor H. E. Wollard of 26 East street was reported sick. On next Wednesday evening there will be some important business before the camp and there will be several candidates to be shown through the mysteries of woodcraft.

The tickets for the Cedar Point excursion are on sale at the clerk's office and all neighbors and their friends who are going are requested to purchase their tickets as soon as possible, as the ticket sold is only an exchange ticket and must be presented to the B. & O. ticket office and be exchanged for the regular excursion ticket. The green exchange ticket will not be accepted on the train, so neighbors, don't forget to get your ticket exchanged in time.

A. O. U. W.

Golden Rod Lodge No. 100, A. O. U. W., held a very interesting meeting in their newly furnished room Monday evening.

Extensive repairs have been made and the rooms are considered the finest lodge rooms in the city. The lodge room proper has been remodeled, the ceiling and side walls artistically decorated, and the floor relain in assorted maple. Two large ante rooms have also been added with two of the latest equipped toilet rooms. In the rear of the building is situated the banquet hall, a room 25x60 feet, which will seat 150 people. This room has also been furnished as a lodge room and will be used as such except on special occasions. The rooms are all fitted with gas and electric lights, the latter being controlled from a switch-board in the main hall. Arrangements are being made for the formal opening on Thursday evening, Sept. 21. At the regular meeting Monday evening the matter will come up for discussion and when the final arrangements will be made. All members are urged to be present.

BOLTON LOANED MONEY ON A RIG

BELONGING TO HAMILTON'S WIFE AND SHE GOT IT BACK ON REPLEVIN WRIT.

Then Hamilton was Arrested on charge
of Obtaining Money Under False Pretenses—Hearing Sept. 1.

Because a writ of habeas corpus was not addressed to him, Turnkey George McCrum of the city basile refused to honor the document which demanded that Meredith J. Hamilton, a Licking county farmer, be released from custody.

Hamilton was arrested by Chief of Police Sheridan on a warrant charging him with obtaining money under false pretenses. The arrest was made about four o'clock and there was plenty of time for a preliminary hearing without the necessity of a habeas corpus proceeding.

The warrant making the above charge was filed by Lewis J. Bolton, the well known liveryman.

He asserts that Hamilton appeared at his barn last Saturday and wanted to borrow $75, offering to leave as security a horse and buggy which he was driving. Bolton in good faith made the loan and placed the outfit in his barn.

A few days later, Mrs. Hamilton appeared at the barn and demanded the rig, claiming that it was her property. She was refused and her next move was to gain possession of the horse and buggy on a writ of replevin from a justice's court.

The proprietor of the stable then got the warrant for his arrest on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. He was given a hearing before Mayor Crilly at 9 o'clock Saturday morning. Upon application of the defendant, the case was continued until September 1. The bond was fixed at $200, and was furnished at once.

Dairy Bottles.

We are very glad that the Licking County Creamery has come to its sense of duty and returned the bottles that were in its possession when the recent "raid" was made, to their owners. I hope it has stopped a great deal of trouble and expense. I have often heard that people who live in glass houses should not throw stones. Do unto others as you would have others do to you.
